Priceless Music Masterpieces, 10c

MUSIC should be judged by what it IS—not by what it COSTS. The Farrar, Tetrazzini, Caruso and McCormack who sing for the Liberty Loan in the Public Square are no less artists by their free recitals than when they sing for $5 a seat at the opera.

If you buy music for what it IS—if you buy music by the piece rather than the price—then you are interested in Century Certified Music—the edition that makes it possible for you to buy the world's greatest masterpieces at the popular price of 10c per copy.

People have asked us, "How can you possibly sell wonderful pieces like the Hungarian Rhapsody, Il Trovatore, Lohengrin, Lucia, Poet and Peasant, and William Tell—certified and guaranteed to be absolutely correct in every note—printed on the best of paper with beautiful title pages, all perfectly clear and clean, as if we paid ten times the price?"

The answer is obvious. The masterpieces we sell at ten cents are music upon which there are no royalties to pay. They are the world's own inheritance, famous everywhere, and therefore demanding no investment to popularize them—no overhead expenses. We buy paper by the carload and sell thousands of copies where others sell hundreds, and are therefore content with a very small margin of profit.

2000 Masterpieces in Century Catalogue

Mendelssohn's Spring Song—whether you pay 50c for it or buy it in the Century Edition for 10c—is still Mendelssohn's Spring Song. Why pay more than the Century price? So with every one of the 2,000 masterpieces in the Century Edition such as Anvil Chorus, Barcarolle, Chaminade Scarf Dance, Con Amore, Cradle Song from Jocelyn, Rigoletto, Fifth Nocturne, Gipsy Dance, Humoresque, La Fontaine, La Paloma, Listen to the Mocking Bird, Air de Ballet, Miserere, Sextette from Lucia, Shepherd's Dream, Star of Hope, and such popular pieces as Alpine Flower, Album Leaf, Angel's Serenade, Awakening of the Lion, Carmen, Convent Bells, Dance of the Stars, The Erl-King, The Flatterer, Fra Diavolo, French Child's Song, Cradle Song, etc.—all authentic, certified interpretations of the masters who wrote them.

Get Century Edition from Your Dealer

Through Century Certified Music, hundreds of thousands of homes have been able to enjoy the immortal masterpieces, where heretofore this music was almost in the luxury class. Unfortunately, some people still feel that they must pay high prices for the same classics that are contained in the Century Edition. But, remember, you can't buy better than the best. You can't buy better than the authentic Certified Century Edition. Insist upon Century Edition at your dealer's. Don't take a substitute—ninety-nine times out of a hundred you will find it much more expensive or inferior.

Music Teachers: Century Music is sold only through stores. The low price at which Century Certified Music is retailed does not permit us to sell to you teachers for less than ten cents a copy. While we appreciate there is nothing in it for you to sell Century, your pupils are greatly benefited because they are able to buy and learn many more pieces than if they bought other editions which are no different from Century Music except they are more expensive. Thousands of successful teachers throughout the country use and recommend Century Certified Music exclusively because they know it is all that good music can be at half the price or less; and they know parents appreciate the saving. —The Publisher
